

Trivalent and Certainty join forces to deliver better global web content management solutions in Sweden

Amsterdam / Gothenburg, 3 May 2016

Today, Trivalent and Certainty announced a strategic partnership. Both companies have agreed to join forces to deliver great global web content management solutions using SDL's recognized solution Tridion for the Swedish market.

Trivalent is a Dutch company operating out of Amsterdam. Founded in 2012, Trivalent specializes in building multi-country / multi-language / multi-channel solutions based on SDL products. Trivalent – who is cherishing a long-standing relation with SDL – provides services to many renowned organizations around the world.

Gothenburg-based Certainty is a Swedish company. Founded in 2009, Certainty offers services in the areas of IT management, embedded engineering and web development. Certainty delivers services for customers like Volvo Car Cooperation, AB Volvo, CEVT and SCA.

Ron Grisnich, co-founder and business lead of Trivalent, commented "Together, we believe we are ideally positioned to conquer the Swedish market for SDL Tridion implementations. The combination of our companies brings knowledge of the market, language and culture together with strong development skills, project expertise and in-depth knowledge of SDL's suite of software products."

Charlotta Utterström, CEO of Certainty: "At this moment we are already involved in several projects for Swedish customers. We are confident that many more projects will follow."
